Five Dry Questions Put To Roosevelt, Hoover

OPEN LETTER IS SENT TO CANDIDATES

Five Questions Propounded By Bishop Cannon and Other Church Leaders

SEEK DIRECT ANSWER

Stand on Details on Prohibition Reform Sought By Methodist Church

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(UP)—Bishop James Cannon Jr., and four other dry leaders of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, have put five questions to President Hoover and Franklin D. Roosevelt, seeking specific answers as to their stand on details of prohibition reform.

The open letter to the two presidential candidates was made public here last night. The first four questions were identical, and asked, in effect:

1. What is your plan to prevent return of the saloon?

2. What definite method do you propose to "protect the dry states?"

3. Would you favor retention of the eighteenth amendment if you find yourself unable to propose definite plans to prevent return of the saloon and to protect dry states?

4. If elected would you ask congress for adequate funds to enforce the eighteenth amendment?

The fifth question put to President Hoover was as to what attitude he would take toward "such modification of the Volstead act as is proposed in the Democratic platform."

Roosevelt was asked if he did not think such modification would increase difficulties of "effective prohibition enforcement which the president of the United States must swear to uphold?"

The letter concluded with a statement expressing hope the requested information would be forthcoming as "there are millions who desire it and who should have it."

In addition to Bishop Cannon, the letters were signed by Mrs. T. J. Copeland, Maryland; Eugene L. Crawford, Alabama; S. C. Hatcher, Virginia; and A. C. Miller, Arkansas, all members of the executive committee of the church's board of temperance and social service.

MORMONS REAFFIRM PROHIBITION STAND

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 8.—(UP)—Traditional dryness of the Mormon church had been reaffirmed today by church leaders who counseled 7000 persons attending the 102nd annual conference to view with skepticism arguments and pronouncements of wet organizations.

The church position was enunciated by Dr. Joseph Merrill, a member of the L. D. S. Council of Twelve.

"In both national political conventions," he observed, "liquor occupied a place in the front rank. This was largely due to effective propaganda given out by anti-prohibition organizations."

BRITISH AVIATORS HONORED FOR DEEDS

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(UP)—Two British flying officers shared posthumous honors today for dying at their posts after ordering four companions to escape by parachute from a crippled bomber plunging to a fatal crash.

The huge Vickers bomber was high over Guildford, Surrey, when one of two motors was disabled by an explosion. The crippled war bird started to fall. Pilot Officer B. H. Gully at the controls, tried to right the ship. He lost altitude too rapidly.

When the bomber began to tilt dangerously, Flying Officer Arthur Page ordered the four other men aboard to bail out in their parachutes. They went over the side, jerked their rip cords, and landed safely.

MARTIN INSULL GIVEN RELEASE ON BAIL TODAY

Former Operator of Utilities Group Winner in Fight in Canada

BARRIE, Ont., Oct. 8.—(UP)—Martin Insull, former operating chief of the Insull utilities "Empire," was granted bail today, freeing him from imprisonment on a fugitive warrant.

The United States Guaranty Surety and Fidelity company signed the bond.

Bail was fixed at $50,000 after a hearing before Simcoe county Judge Dudley Homes of Barrie.

The action will allow Insull freedom until he is summoned to the hearing at which Cook county, Illinois, will seek to extradite him from Canada to answer to charges of embezzlement and larceny in connection with the collapse of Insull utilities.

As soon as Judge Holmes announced he would approve the bail he ordered Insull brought before him to give his consent to bonding arrangements.

With his head bowed, and looking paler than when he was locked in the little county jail last Thursday night, the one-time millionaire was led into the courtroom by Deputy Sheriff B. W. Smith.

FORMER U. S. COURT JUDGE IS CALLED

HERKIMER, N. Y., Oct. 8.—(UP)—Former Supreme Court Justice Irving R. Devendorf, who presided at one of the nation's most noted trials—the Gillette murder case—died today. He left a request that flowers be omitted at his funeral because of economic conditions.

The case involved the slaying of Grace Brown of South Otsego, at Big Moose, Herkimer county, more than 20 years ago. Chester Gillette, son of a wealthy collar manufacturer, was convicted of the crime and electrocuted. He allegedly was her lover.

Theodore Dreiser, American author, drew from this case material for his book, "An American Tragedy."

Taken For Ride; Then Cash Stolen

"Gentlemen" Bandits Take Fifty $20 Bills Promising Early Return

TWO "GENTLEMEN" bandits robbed J. A. Barker, operator of a billiard parlor at 119 South Spadra street, Fullerton, of $1000 in $20 bills last night after driving him in his own car to the outskirts of South Gate, according to a report to Fullerton police.

The bandits told him he might get the money back in about 40 days, Barker declared.

According to Barker he left his place of business at 6:10 o'clock and walked to his car, which was parked a short distance away on Santa Fe avenue. As he stepped on the starter a man approached and inquired if his name was Barker.

When Barker answered in the affirmative, the bandit pulled a gun and said quietly: "You're the man we're looking for. Move over to the center of the seat."

As Barker moved over, the second bandit climbed in beside him. With the first robber at the wheel the machine was driven rapidly to Buena Park. Here his hands and feet were bound with wire and he was placed in the back seat with his hat pulled down over his eyes. The men then went through his pockets and removed the $1000, Barker told officers.

Barker said that when the machine reached the outskirts of South Gate the bandits stopped the car and disappeared in the darkness. He managed to partially free himself he said, and attracted the attention of a passing motorist, who took him to the South Gate police station.

According to a report on file at the Fullerton police station, Barker sold some property in North Carolina and the money was wired to him. The money had been placed in his safe but last night he decided to take it home.

Barker told police that he had never seen the men before. He described them as being extremely polite and very well dressed. One bandit appeared to be about 35 years old, six feet in height and weighing 200 pounds. The other was about 32 years old, about five feet in height and weighing 170 pounds. Both wore gray caps, he said.

Barker declared that the bandits told him they hated to take the money but needed it because they were in trouble.

Arms Conference Growing Closer

LONDON, Oct. 8.—(UP)—France today accepted the proposal, originating with the British government, for a four-power arms conference dealing with the German demand for arms equality.

The conference appears more likely to be held as a result.

The acceptance of France was something of a surprise. The Paris government previously had been reluctant to agree, fearing it would be interpreted as a concession to Germany. Germany has demanded that the powers abandon their rigid opposition to her demand prior to the conference.

The date and place of the conference is still uncertain, but Britain considers early prospect of such discussion most important, regardless of the location.

Germany has accepted, but the text of her reply has not been published.

The captain said he recognized the plane by symbol or sign letters.

Hitch-Hiker is Jailed After Indiana Girl Drops From Sight

FRESNO, Calif., Oct. 8.—(UP)—Believing she may have been the victim of foul play, Fresno police today sought the aid of Colorado authorities in locating Mildred Scheldler, 20, missing La Porte, Ind., girl.

Police meantime continued their questioning of Arur Metcalf, 12, who said he had been the girl's companion on a hitch-hiking trip from Indiana to California.

Metcalf was arrested after the girl's mother, Mrs. Wanda Scheldler, of Fresno, reported finding blood-stained women's undergarments in Metcalf's possession.

Metcalf, she said, successfully posed for several days as her long lost son, Orville, whom she had not seen since he was a young boy. She discovered the hoax she said, when she recalled that her son was brown eyed while Metcalf's eyes are blue, and had located her son in La Porte, Ind.

Metcalf said he left Miss Scheldler at Needles, Calif., when she left in an automobile with another man. Her mother said she last heard from the girl at Trinidad, Colo.

The youth, police said, was shaken visibly when an explanation of the blood-stained clothing was demanded.

MINERS FROM TWO STATES IN PARLEY

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 8.—(UP)—Hundreds of miners from the coal fields of southeastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas gathered here today for a gigantic mass meeting.

The miners are members of the United Mine Workers of America and have been on strike for several months in an effort to gain recognition of the union in wage scale arbitration.

Local and state authorities made preparations to meet "any emergency," but said they expected no violence at the meeting, scheduled to be held at a ball park.

Justice of the Peace A. C. Sewell, after preliminary hearings of 167 miners arrested for picketing a nonunion mine, announced he would decide Oct. 21 whether the men would be held for trial in district court.

Campaign Against Dollar in Paris Spreads Also to British Pound Today

UNEASINESS IS FELT
Predictions of Renewal of Gold Flow to France Are Not Corroborated

PARIS, Oct. 8.—(UP)—A new drive against the American dollar gained further headway here today, and selling spread to the pound sterling.

The press attributed the selling to President Hoover's Des Moines speech.

The dollar was quoted at 25.43 francs, against a previous close of 25.48 francs. The pound at its new low was at $7.50 francs.

Pressure came not only from French sellers, but from Belgian, and Dutch. France, Belgium and Holland are the principal gold holders of Europe.

One section of the French press said Mr. Hoover's speech provoked uneasiness in the international money market.

The financial editor of the Paris Midi, Al Jeune, said: "Without doubt Hoover provoked this uneasiness. The President revealed to the masses the dollar nearly crashed and thereby excited retrospective fear."

Merchants Report Great Response To Fall Jubilee

CROWDS RUSH STORES DURING CLOSING HOURS

Marked by a success beyond the hopes of the merchants division of the chamber of commerce, sponsors of the event, the Santa Ana Merchants Fall Jubilee today was firmly established as one of the outstanding sales events ever staged in the city.

Merchants throughout the city, large and small, today reported a marked increase in sales through the promotional event. More business was transacted in the city than for many months past, according to Ivie Scdin, program chairman, who made a survey of the business establishments to check the volume of business.

With large crowds on the streets during the previous days and nights of the Jubilee, still a larger crowd thronged the streets of the business section today and more were expected to visit the business district tonight.

Many At Wedding

A huge crowd at the Broadway theatre last night saw and numbered listeners heard, over KREB, the wedding ceremony which united Miss Fern Schorle and Lester Botts, Santa Ana couple, in marriage in a public wedding ceremony performed by Justice of the Peace Kenneth E. Morrison.

J. W. C. Jerome, prominent civic worker and candidate for supervisor, made brief remarks appropriate to the occasion before the ceremony. Les Fountain, manager of the theatre, made arrangements for the wedding. A list of merchants who donated gifts to the couple was read.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Schorle, 1528 West Second street, today publicly extended thanks to the theater and to the merchants for the wedding gifts.

Near the close of the Jubilee today at noon, seven persons had been successful in capturing and identifying the Mysterious Mr. Raffles, elusive man for whom a reward of $250 is paid each time he is identified making a purchase in some store.

Mrs. Mabel Moon, 823 North Birch street, was successful in identifying Raffles in the Nichols dealer store at 10:15 o'clock this morning. Late yesterday afternoon Mrs. L. R. The capture of Raffles was effected by Gene Thompson, 301 Fruit street, in the Grand Central Market while Raffles was making a purchase yesterday afternoon.

At 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, Mrs. L. M. Hostetter, 2008 South Van Ness street, captured Raffles in the Horton Furniture company store. Raffles, as advertised in The Register, had appeared to talk to Mrs. Edna Kirby, movie actress who is living in an apartment in the Horton windows, and later disappeared. Ten minutes later he reappeared in the store without the mask he had formerly worn, and was captured.

Music for the Jubilee was provided last night by the Santa Ana American Legion drum and bugle corps that marched through the streets playing martial airs, and by the Spanish Troubadors, who played in the street and at the Arcade at 615 North Main street.

A few minutes later Williams answered to an information charging him with grand theft, in connection with the same stock transaction, and entered a plea of not guilty. He demanded a jury trial which was set for October 21. Williams, in the new charge, is alleged to have stolen $275 from Mrs. Emma J. Wetlin and Chandos Rush sought a new trial on the charges of error on the part of the court in rulings on the law and misconduct on the part of the district attorney during the trial and argument to the jury.

Arguments for the new trial were heard yesterday by Judge Ames before whom the case had been tried. After the motion for a new trial had been denied Deputy District Attorney Preston Turner asked for a continuation of one week on the probation matter. This continuation was requested on behalf of the probation office. "The American Legion knows nothing about such reported sales and as far as the Santa Ana Post is concerned will do everything possible to put a stop to it here," Judge J. B. Tucker, post commander, said today.

It was reported the salesmen were asking $1 each for the stickers, accepting the money as authorized agents for ex-service men's organizations.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG -- News Behind the News --

WASHINGTON
By Paul Mallon
BOOMERANG

The Republicans are plotting a neat bit of campaign strategy. They plan to have business men circulate appeals to the people to rescind-meaning Republican These appeals probably will be issued in the form of paid advertisements in the newspapers.

Some of the heaviest industrial names in the country are on the list for this campaign service. Their influence may be great with small business men through the country.

The scheme may cut two ways. The Roosevelt following has been built up among those who want a change of industrialists as well as of officials.

G. O. P.

Some men higher-up in the Republican campaign had a fatalistic air before Mr. Hoover went to Des Moines.

One was asked by a friend recently for a frank view of the Presidential campaign. He replied: "Well, the drive is on"—no more, nor less.

That tells the whole story of the political situation. The Republicans are working as hard as possible. Privately they do not know whether they can turn the tide. They are still hoping for a break.

Their campaign from the inside was rather sluggish up to the time of the President's Des Moines speech. The organization was neither as smooth nor as powerful as could be hoped for.

For instance Senator Watson of Indiana had a pain in his neck. He gets those sometimes in such situations as this. Senator Moses became more or less tongue-tied after the Maine election. Before then he was issuing statements frequently. Numerous Republican senators are working without close liaison with the national ticket. These include Bingham, Davis, Glenn, Jones, Steiwer, Oddie and Norbeck.

Ordinarily Republican senatorial candidates hang around the presidential ticket like bees around a honey pot. Only Senator Smoot of this group has recently been seen around the White House.

This under-cover Republican situation is equalled only by that which kept Vice Presidential Nominee Garner out of the Democratic campaign. Circumstances aided to this end. His friends say he will make few speeches before election day.

Al Smith's tactics make the see-saw about even in internal politics.

COLOR

Those colored gents who called on Mr. Hoover will tell you the Republican National Committee graciously paid their railroad fare.

The idea for the party on the White House lawn was cooked up by Ray Benjamin. He is a close California friend of the President. He and some of the Republican managers appear to have been worried by news they were receiving from the colored campaign camp.

Democratic negro clubs were being organized in some of the large cities. The Perry Hager element in the South had long been disturbed by the Administration's efforts to develop the Lily White movement. That worry is out.

HYPO

The Administration has failed on some of its strongest sub-rosa campaign efforts.

This is true of the attempt to swing the Chinese wheat deal before Mr. Hoover's Des Moines speech. Good sources whispered that it would come along later. Inability to find someone to hold the bag for the loan held it up.

The same difficulty was encountered in movements to bolster the wheat and cotton markets. Any doctor will tell you that you can do just so much with a hypodermic needle and no more.

SHIFTS

This fatalism of the Republicans and cheers of the Democrats may easily prove to be premature.

A change of a few hundred thousand voters in the right spots will make much difference in the electoral result. Al Smith could have been elected with the proper distribution of half a million more votes in 1928.

Nearly all states are doubtful. Roosevelt only holds the edge in most by a narrow margin.

All the polls clearly show how near the tantalizing prize is to Republicans if they could only reach it.

NOTES

The Hoover farm speech carried a belligerent tone that was needed to reinspire the flagging rank and file. . . . The Home Loan Mortgage system is still trying to unravel itself for a punch that will help that situation. . . . Some loans may be rushed through between October 15 and election day but not much help is expected from that quarter until after election. . . . Republicans are suffering from the political situation which makes every constructive act of the Administration appear to be a political step for Mr. Hoover's re-election.

In view of that the government will be on a routine basis until after election. . . . Most heads of departments were out of town campaigning early in the week.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin
"MILKING"

The Insull setup was the prime example of how holding companies can "milk" their operating subsidiaries by charging excessive supervisory and management fees. This practice is less common than it used to be and the impetus of the Insull revelations may result in its complete abolition.

The present status of some of the larger utility groups with regard to this practice is interesting. Associated Gas & Electric and Electric Bond & Share still collect such fees from their subsidiaries.

Stones & Webster and Commonwealth and Southern formerly had such a system but have recently changed it considerably or dropped it.

Columbia Gas & Electric collects management fees from its oil properties but none whatever from its strictly utility holdings.

The North American group has always avoided this type of fee entirely.

United Corporation—the Morgan utility group—started to eliminate the fee system as long as three years ago. This policy may have some effect on Electric Bond and Share. George Howard—President of United Corporation—is an important director of Electric Bond and United has maintained a large stock interest in Electric Bond through thick and thin.

STOCK MARKET

Commission houses are letting out walls of woe because most of their profitable trading business has suddenly disappeared. The public simply refuses to get excited about the market any more. Inside estimates indicate that 90 per cent of the actual business transacted on the stock exchange has been done by floor traders.

On a dull day recently the ticker showed volume of trading at 1:30 as 800,000 shares. At 2:10 the figure was still given as 800,000 shares. One broker remarked they should be grateful it wasn't going backwards.

TOYS

The old pool favorite Auburn has lost a lot of its popularity among professionals in favor of two newcomers—United Aircraft and Montgomery Ward. Backers of these stocks are somewhat disappointed because they have not been able to distribute to the public as freely as they had hoped. It isn't much fun for manipulators when the public refuses to play.

DEFICIT

Long proponents of the sales tax are busy working up arguments to use on the next congress. They think they have a powerful weapon in the 400 million dollar Treasury deficit for the first quarter of the current fiscal year. They are hopeful that even congress will see that the present tax won't do the job of balancing the budget.

TREASURY

Powerful New York banking interests were instrumental in getting the Treasury to postpone its plan for floating a long term issue this month. The banks still have leanings in favor of shorter maturities and said so in no uncertain terms.

PAGEANT GIVEN WHEN W. C. T. U. HOLDS RALLY

ORANGE, Oct. 8.—Bringing "Youth's Appeal for Prohibition" and challenging wet propaganda distorted facts, Miss Mabel Jean Brown and Miss Dorothy May Hoffman, of Niles, Ohio, last night presented a patriotic pageant and rally in the First Presbyterian church, under the auspices of Orange Women's Christian Temperance union.

It is up to the thinking and Christian people of America to support the 18th amendment, it was brought out. Although the wets and dries are agreed on the one point that education is a big factor in promoting temperance, the dries go a step further in insisting that the law should come first, with moral training following. Without the law, education in such lines is not effective, it was stated.

Children in Pageant
The program opened with a pageant, in which the part of King Temperance was taken by Gordon Rhode. About 40 local boys and girls, of the various churches in the city took part, singing praises to the king and his attributes.

Miss Hoffman gave "Youth's Appeal for Prohibition," stating that although there is need of more supporters for the 18th amendment, over one million and a half youth of the nation are cooperating in temperance work.

She stated that the 18th amendment is more representative of the nation as a whole than any other amendment to the constitution, because 46 of the 48 states had ratified the law long before final passage. Other amendments have been passed by just bare majorities and yet there is no talk of having them repealed, she brought out.

The wets state that prohibition was passed during a time of war when such a law should not have been proposed. Miss Hoffman continued to state that as in previous periods, the vital moral issue came to the front during the time of war, when great inspiration was needed.

Blames Liquor Traffic
Crookedness in politics, disrespect for law, etc., are not children of prohibition as the wets state, but of the liquor traffic and its evils, the speaker continued. There were illegal places for the sale of liquor in pre-prohibition days just as there are now, but in the present day there is no open saloon, she said.

Many wets suggest the Canadian system of sale of liquor as a possible pattern for the United States, Miss Hoffman said. However, she continued, proof of Canada's unsuccessful venture comes from the liquor board itself, in a statement, "The evils of Intemperance are ever with us." In Canada, drinking among women has increased, crime has increased, etc., since there has been government sale of liquor, she stated.

Plans Made For 10th Anniversary Program Oct. 21

ORANGE, Oct. 8.—Plans for the observance of the 10th anniversary of the founding of the Immanuel Lutheran church on October 21 were made this week at a meeting of the Ladies' Aid society, with Mrs. Marie Mueller presiding. Mrs. Louis Koth has charge of the dinner, which is to be served in the social hall.

A sermonette will be given following the dinner at which church members and their families are to be present. E. T. Fingle, principal of the Immanuel Parochial school, will head the committee to arrange it.

It is the plan of the committee in charge to have each department of the church represented in the program. At their meeting this week women of the society spent the day in quilting. A social meeting of the group is to be held October 12.

PASTOR LEADS DISCUSSION ON FILMS OF TODAY

OLIVE, Oct. 8.—At the Walther league meeting Thursday evening, the Rev. E. H. Kreidt led the discussion on the first of a series on "The Challenge to Modern Youth." The topic for the evening was "The Moving Pictures." The conclusion reached was "a large percentage of the pictures shown are definitely harmful; censorship will not be able to eliminate all bad pictures; the Christian youth, also adults, must judge carefully and avoid evil pictures."

In the business session which followed, the executive board announced the two teams for a series of three debates to be held by the society. The first of these will be held October 27 on the subject: "Resolved, that a change of administration will be conducive to the welfare of our country."

Walter Krage was elected to serve as manager for the sale of Wheatridge Christmas seals. The proceeds of these sales go to the support of the Lutheran Tuberculosis sanitarium in Wheatridge, Colo.

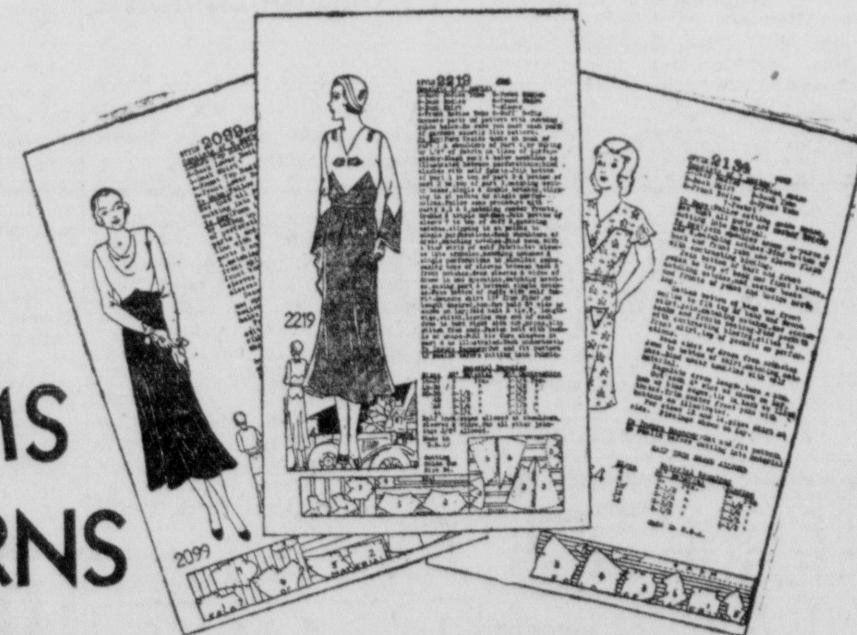

Miss Josephine Luchau was appointed to serve as secretary and Miss Florence Heim as treasurer for the months of November and December, since the regular officers, Miss Marie Krejle and Miss Meta Paulus, will be absent.

STAGE ROUNDUP AT FIESTA DEL ORO TOMORROW

It was announced today that the three great cattle ranches of Orange county, the Irvine, Moulton and Diamond Bar, have assured the Costa Mesa American Legion post that they will cooperate with cowboys and exhibitors in tomorrow's Fiesta del Oro to be staged at historic Derby ranch, two miles northwest of Costa Mesa, by the Mesa Legion as a benefit for the unemployed of that community.

The help of these ranches and the roundup features made possible is looked upon by L. C. Siothower and John Wilcox, Legion committeemen in charge of arrangements for the fiesta, as assuring the success of the big undertaking.

Horse racing will be a feature of the day's program, a racetrack having been laid out on the ranch. Events in fancy riding and roping will interest old and young, some of the riders having declared they propose to show that the much vaunted vaquero of Old California was not a better rider than the cowboy of today.

The Irvine ranch has promised to bring a bunch of steers and stage an exhibition of roping and branding, a novel and thrilling sight to dwellers in this modern world of oranges and cement highways. A Spanish barbeque will be held at noon in charge of W. K. Duffy, of Santa Ana.

Old California of pre-49 days will live again in the dancing and singing of a group of caballeros and señoritas in colorful old California costumes. These performers in charge of Sol Gonzales will appear on a large open-air stage enclosed in a setting representing an old California hacienda.

One small admission includes all the day's exhibits and the barbeque at noon, all receipts over expenses to be used at Costa Mesa thilwinter in welfare work among the unemployed and needy.

NEW MARKET OF HUGE SIZE

The gigantic size of the new Orange County unit of the Wholesale-Retail Markets, at 1010 South Main street, can be seen in the picture below which was taken on the opening day. The store which was built with Santa Ana labor and material, is said to have the largest floor space of any store in the county.

AVOCADO PEST CONTROL WORK TO BE SHOWN

Avocado growers of Orange county will be given an opportunity soon to observe progress being made by Riverside experiment station on the insect control and disease control projects that have been undertaken during the past year or more for the avocado industry.

Growers will assemble at the California-Carlsbad hotel at Carlsbad, 1:30 p. m., Friday, October 14, and proceed from there to the Dean Palmer ranch in that district. Farm Adviser H. E. Wahlberg suggested that those who plan to go earlier in the day and visit other avocado orchards in the San Diego territory before the afternoon session.

Among the speakers for the afternoon sessions in the field will be Dr. L. D. Batchelor, director of the citrus experiment station; Prof. H. J. Quayle, entomologist, and Prof. W. T. Horne, pathologist, of the citrus experiment station.

The meeting is being held under the auspices of the agricultural extension service, University of California, the avocado association and the Farm Bureau avocado department.

All growers are invited to inspect the results of the control experiments, according to Farm Adviser Wahlberg.

The picture is sponsored by the Pacific Society of Religious Education. The following pictures will be shown:

"The Beauty of Great Tokyo," "Cherry Blossom Land," "Four Seasons in Japan" and "A Story of Ko-Ko Musume."

ORANGE, Oct. 8.—Mrs. I. H. Myers' birthday anniversary was the occasion for a merry surprise party given this week in her home, 527 East Maple avenue. Those present, other than Mr. and Mrs. Myers, were Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Jemison and daughter, Yvonne; Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Jemison and children, Dany, Jamie Jr. and Isabel; Mr. and Mrs. Homer J. Davis and daughter, Armystra Sue; and Mrs. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Myers, of Ontario were unable to be present.

Politically Speaking

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 8.—Verbal dynamite exploded in the camps of both William Gibbs McAdoo and Taft Tubbs, candidate for United States senator, this week. McAdoo struck at J. J. Shouse, his former close friend and ally, who as president of the Associated Federal Courts—What They Are, Judge Buffington was admitted to the bar in 1878, and has seen some 45 years of service on the federal bench—longer than any other judge who ever has sat upon it, not excepting John Marshall, who is otherwise the record-holder. Although advancing toward 80 years of age, the dean of the national judiciary enjoys the highest reputation among jurists throughout America for the soundness and vigor of his opinions.

The Salt Lake tabernacle choir, under the direction of Anthony C. Lund, and the tabernacle organ, played by Edward P. Kimball, will be heard in a recital of sacred music over the Columbia Broadcasting system including KHI, from 9 to 9:30 a. m. tomorrow.

The choir of more than 300 voices will be heard singing "O Be Gracious Ye Immortals" from Mendelssohn's "Elijah," Chapman's "To These O Country," and Mendelssohn's "I'll Praise the Lord" from "St. Paul."

Replied Tubbs: "Mr. McAdoo's insinuation that I am being supported by mythical and sinister forces interested in the return of the saloon is a distortion of the facts at issue and of my entire political record. . . . I am positively and unalterably opposed to the return of the saloon."

The "cow county caucus," of state senators representing the rural regions of California, is to be held in advance of the 1933 session of the state legislature. Senator W. P. Rich of Marysville, one of the economy bloc in the last legislature, is being groomed for election as president pro tem of the senate. If elected he would succeed Senator Arthur H. Breed of Oakland, who has held the post for many years.

Advocates of Rich's election contend that, since the senate becomes representative of the farming sections under the new system of reapportionment, a senator from the country and not from a large city, should hold the position of president pro tem.

NIGHT GAME OPENS DONS' LEAGUE SEASON

HOOKS AND SLIDES

by WILLIAM BRAUCHER

If you want to find out for sure how swiftly you can think, go and get yourself knocked out. To be knocked out is a great aid to rapid thinking. You have the authority of Gene Tunney for that. Mr. Tunney has been knocked out and has written a book. Not that you have to be knocked out to write a book—but a book like Tunney's "A Man Must Fight." It is just as well to be knocked out first.

Some of the passages in that volume by the ex-pugilist-politician will go ringing down through the ages. Especially will you appreciate them if you saw the fight at Chicago in which the author was allowed something like a half hour to get straightened around.

"LOTS OF TIME" The fellow writes. "Bronson and Gibson were wild-eyed beckoning me to stay down. I nodded, recognizing them and their message. There was the referee. I heard him say 'Time.' I had lots of time—lots of time." In which the writer heartily agrees—Mr. Tunney did have lots of time.

"What to do when I did get up," Tunney continues, "became the problem. Although I never had been knocked down before, I had thought of the possibility of it from the early days of my career. I had decided that one of two courses might be followed to try to ward off defeat after a knockdown. Every thoughtful boxer goes on the assumption that sooner or later he will have the experience of being knocked down. To anticipate is to be prepared.

"Since a man who has been knocked down usually loses the power of locomotion, it follows that he must clinch if and when he rises. I had never seen a man completely knocked out or seriously knocked down get up and propel himself out of danger. When a complete knockout is administered the recipient usually has to have his legs lifted up so he may get through the ropes and out of the ring."

There that he was not "completely knocked out." He wants the world to know what a complete knock-out is like.

HOLDS DEBATE

He goes on for several pages, reviewing the thoughts he entertained as he sat there on the floor at Soldier's Field, one of his legs crumpled crazily beneath him.

He thought of clinching, but after a serious debate with himself, gave up that idea because of the danger of Dempsey's "rabbit punches" which he felt would "do him no good." He thought of getting up and wading into Dempsey on the theory that Jack over-eager for the kill, would leave himself wide open for a devastating punch. But he discarded that course, too, because Dempsey was a man who kept his chin buried behind his shoulder and would be hard to hit effectively.

"I decided that I must avoid allowing Dempsey to close in on me after I got up. I remembered that early in the fight, as I feinted him and moved away, he would flounder after me. This was the cue to my safest course: to get up and make him chase me. This was my decision.

"To the average person, the possibility of all this thinking, weighing, rejecting and deciding seems incredible in so short a space of time. (Tunney falls into the common error of confusing time and space there, by the way.) Considering that thought in the normal person is instantaneous, I can readily understand the development of a faculty for emergency.

SAFETY IN FLIGHT

When the referee finally got around to the number "10," Tunney got up, and, according to the plan arrived at in his conference with himself on the floor, fled.

Thereby he saved himself, and beat Dempsey. It all goes to show that when you must, you can do an awful lot of thinking in a very short time. Gene certainly must have thought rapidly.

NEW PILOT, 26, YOUNGEST BOSS IN BIG LEAGUES

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—(UP)—Joe Cronin, who came up from the sandlots of San Francisco to be the outstanding major league shortstop of recent years, was appointed today to succeed Walter Johnson as manager of the Washington American league baseball team.

Cronin, who will be 26 years old next Wednesday, will be the youngest manager in the major leagues next year. Clark Griffith, owner of the Senators, is a believer in the leadership of youth. He chose "Bucky" Harris to manage the club in 1924 when "Bucky" was only 27, and Harris rewarded him by winning two league championships—Washington's first—in succession.

Johnson's release was announced this week after he had piloted the club to third place in the 1932 race, Johnson, one of the greatest pitchers of all time when in his prime, took the club over after Harris went to Detroit. The best the "Big Train" could do in four years was to finish second in 1930.

In choosing Cronin, Griffith passed over the veteran Joe Judge, who had been with the team for 18 years and was considered one of the smartest first basemen in the game.

"Jumping Joe" Cronin came to Washington from Kansas City of the American association in July, 1928. He played here in the last few games of the 1928 season and in 1929 played the full season, batting .352.

Cronin's biggest year was in 1930, when he batted .346 and was voted the most valuable player. In 1931 he batted .306 and his average for the season just ended was .321. He drove in 10 more runs than any other member of the team this year and led the league in triples, with 18. He bats and throws right-handed.

Griffith did not reveal Cronin's salary.

ROADSTER RACES AT H. B. TRACK SUNDAY

To the followers of roadster racing, the program arranged by the California Speedway club for Sunday on its Huntington Beach track promises thrills and excitement.

The track is in perfect shape and the greatest aggregation of nifty drivers and speedy cars ever appearing on a Pacific Coast roadster course will face the starter's flag. It is claimed.

Tommy Newton of Bell has entered a brand new Miller-Crager Special. Warren Atterbury of Uplands has worked two months getting his new Miller Special ready. The Hoover garage of Corona has also entered a Miller-Crager which up to the time it stopped racing six weeks ago, held all roadster track records. "Frenchie" LeHague of Inglewood, who has been leading the field since the Hoover entry was withdrawn, will drive his Miller-Scotfield. Jimmy Wilkinson of Pasadena, Hal Robison of Huntington Park and "Brownie" Brown of Long Beach are also among the entries.

Alfred Ault, former Santa Ana sports writer, is gold-mining near Crescent City. Well, one newspaperman got smart anyway.

When "Pop" Warner cut to 44 his Stanford varsity squad one of the victims of the reduction was Santa Ana's Bruce Tarter, Saint captain of 1929. Tarter isn't worrying. Taking a six-year leave course, he can wait as long as "Pop."

Prominent near the pits at Municipal Bowl motorcycle races is a big white ambulance. And it isn't there for fun.

Three local boys "made good" at Oregon State this year. Harold Pangle, Ed Adams and Marsh Dunkin all accompanied Paul Schiller's club south to meet the Trojans. Dunkin went to Tustin and was better known in these parts as a hurdler than a gridsmith, this being his first season in football.

Bill Lumm, one of those Long Beach Poly ends, schooled at Santa Ana Hi last term. He was not even a candidate for the squad here.

News from the Berkeley chapter of the Ex-Santa Ana Football Players' league:

"Bill Ingram called the Frosh over yesterday to have them throw some passes against the California," writes Butch Medanic in the Oakland Tribune. "Floyd Blower, all-Southern California halfback from Santa Ana, was doing most of the tossing for the Babes. Due to his accurate passing and the good receiving of Brittingham, the Frosh were able to score several long gains against the varsity. Blower seems to be the mainstay."

ANAHEIM, BREA, ELDER SMASHES GARDEN GROVE GRID WINNERS AS 4000 WATCH

Proving beyond all doubt why he is known as the nerviest and greatest of all short-track motorcycle skippers, "Sprouts" Elder, phlegmatic Britisher, smashed to smithereens all lap speed records at Santa Ana Bowl last night while the largest crowd that ever attended a sport event at the city's stadium watched in amazement.

The Bowl was virtually filled by an enthusiastic throng, variously estimated from 4000 to 4500 persons, that braved a touch of rain to see the daredevils spin "round the fifth-of-a-mile dirt oval."

Holder of every track record in Southern California except the one at the Bowl, Elder added that to his collection the first time he tried for it. Unpaced, he circled the layout in 14 1/2 seconds, three-fifths of a second less than Wilbur LaMoreaux's course mark set two weeks ago. Elder was atop an English Rudge machine on which he broadside the turns as no other driver ever has here.

Soon afterward, the champion ran away from Ray Grant, most popular and most successful of the pack locally, in a two-lap match race. Elder won by 15 yards in 19 1/2 seconds. Grant drew the pole but Elder took the lead from him on the first turn of the second lap and gradually pulled away from his hard-riding opponent.

Elder also won the final and feature race, a four-lap affair. His time was 1 minute and 15 seconds. "Bo" Lisman was second, Tom Cox third.

There was only one spill but that was a bad one which piled up Lisman. Grant and Dick Springfield on the home turn. Grant was slightly bruised, withdrew from later races.

Flower Show Of Women's Clubs Proves Success

CHILDREN TAKE PART IN EVENT AT PLACENTIA

PLACENTIA, Oct. 8.—Placentia Round Table clubhouse was ablaze with the flaming shades of fall flowers when the garden sections of the Yorba Linda Woman's club and of the Round Table presented their first annual fall flower show yesterday afternoon. Nearly 60 persons made entries in the show, many placing large numbers of bouquets.

Vaudeville and Zane Gray Film At West Coast

"HERITAGE OF DESERT" OPENS TWO DAY RUN

Zane Grey's action romance of the west, "Heritage of the Desert," done into movie form with a cast headed by Randolph Scott, Sally Blane and J. Farrell MacDonald, opens today at the Fox West Coast theater.

The movie, directed by Henry Hathaway, follows the plot of the novel closely. Scott, as a young surveyor, is called by MacDonald to his ranch to check its boundaries accurately. David Landau, head of a band of cattle rustlers, attempts to prevent his reaching the ranch house alive, but fails.

Arriving there ultimately, Scott meets and falls in love with Miss Blane, daughter of MacDonald's dead partner. She is to marry MacDonald's son, but she is soon in love with Scott. The son, a weak character, borrows money from Landau to finance his spree in town, and ultimately suffers death at his hands.

His father broken hearted but infuriated, and Scott lead the ranchmen on the mission of vengeance, and when they have completed it, the path to happiness for Scott and Miss Blane is clear.

SPENCER TRACY TO PLAY IN "PIER 13"

Spencer Tracy and Marion Burns are to have prominent roles in Joan Bennett's new Fox picture, "Pier 13." Tracy is now appearing in the current Fox picture, "The Painted Woman," and Miss Burns has just completed her first screen role with George O'Brien in Zane Grey's "The Golden West."

Another player who has been cast in this picture is George Walsh, who was starred in many Fox screen dramas in the old silent days. This is Walsh's first step toward regaining his former film prominence.

Helen Hayes' First Role Was With Dog

Helen Hayes' first screen role was as leading woman to a dog star.

The dog was Jean, the predecessor of the late Rin Tin Tin, she explained at Paramount where she is being co-starred with. Gary Cooper in "A Farewell to Arms" under Frank Borzage's direction.

Miss Hayes was a child actress in New York when it was suggested that her mother take her to the Vitaphone studio in Brooklyn to do picture work.

IN SHADOW OF DEATH

Sally Blane and Randolph Scott, featured in the new Zane Gray picture "The Heritage of the Desert," coming to the Fox West Coast theater today to play with vaudeville through Sunday.

WHEELER AND WOOLSEY SHOW HERE OCT. 14

It's been a long time since Bert Wheeler and his partner Robert Woolsey have been seen in a comedy in Santa Ana, but they're on their way.

Their newest picture will come to the Fox West Coast theater for three days, starting next Friday, and in conjunction with it will be five acts of vaudeville, which will start showing in the Fox West Coast theater three days each week in the future, it was announced.

The new comedy is "Hold 'Em Jail," and is a football comedy, although everything else imaginable other than football also is seen in the film.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Oct. 8.—The birthday anniversary of Mrs. W. W. Huffman was observed in the home of Mrs. E. W. Gentry who entertained a group of relatives in honor of her daughter-in-law on this event. West Coast Offers Five Vodvil Acts

Five fast acts of vaudeville in which comedy is given the preference is seen at the Fox West Coast theater tonight and tomorrow together with the picture "The Heritage of the Desert," a Zane Gray written production.

The vaudeville bill features "A Night in a Mexican Cabaret," with six musicians, dancers and singers. This act is one that has been booked here before but which is making its first appearance due to its demand elsewhere.

Other acts are: Cash and Carry, a comedy juggling act; Warren and Luman, comedy; Duffin, Joyce and Duffin, a dance novelty; Pall Mall, comedy.

GEORGE ARLISS FILM ENDS SHOWING HERE

Final showing of "A Successful Calamity," starring George Arliss and an all-star cast, which has been playing at the Fox Broadway theater for the past two days, will be made tonight when the film ends its engagement here.

The story of a millionaire who returns home from Europe, after a banking conference to find his family so engrossed in their own affairs, he decides to give them a test.

The test proves a grilling one, in which comedy runs rampant, and a happy ending is the reward for all who take it. Arliss was never better. His lines give him plenty of comedy, but his adroit manner in speaking them makes for the best kind of entertainment.

GARDEN GROVE

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 8.—Mrs. P. L. Wilson, of Westwood, was a recent guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Wheeler spent Sunday with Dr. and Mrs. F. B. Friend in Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rogers and daughter, Roberta, of San Pedro, were entertained Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Duke.

BARTHELMESS IN NEW FILM HERE OCT. 13

"Cabin in the Cotton," latest starring vehicle for Richard Barthelmess, will be shown at the Fox Broadway theater next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, following the closing of "Grand Hotel," which has the preference during the fore part of the week.

Critics declare Barthelmess' new picture one of the outstanding achievements of his career, declaring that audiences who liked him in simple story films will again find their ideal. In the new film he returns to the country boy role, similar to his "Tollable David."

The scenes are laid in the South and the Southern atmosphere is carried throughout. It is the story of a youth raised by a planter. There is a good plot much romance and much action.

JOHN GILBERT IN NEW TYPE ROLE COMING

John Gilbert makes his bow as both star and author in "Downstairs," opening Monday at the Fox West Coast theater. In his latest picture Gilbert abandons the romantic hero roles he has played in the past and enacts a villain in the Von Stroheim type in an unusual drama of what takes place "behind the scenes" of a great European estate.

An interesting item in connection with the filming of "Downstairs" is the fact that the feminine lead is played by Virginia Bruce, whose engagement to Gilbert was announced during the making of the picture.

Has Strong Support A prominent role in "Downstairs" is filled by Paul Lukas, and the cast also includes Hedda Hopper, Reginald Owen, Olga Bacanova, Bodil Rossing, Otto Hoffman, Lucien Littlefield and Marion Lesing.

Gilbert's role is that of an irascible chaffeur who spends as much time in the boudoirs of his various employers as at the wheel of their cars. His latest job is with an Austrian baroness and it is not long before he makes his position in the castle felt only too keenly both "upstairs" among the aristocracy and "downstairs" in the servants' quarters.

He makes love to the butler's wife and steals the savings of the cook whom he has enmeshed in an entanglement; he blackmails the baroness when he discovers her to be unfaithful to her husband; and in general he is a menace to the helpless household until the butler in as weird a revenge as man ever conceived, solves the problem and eliminates the villain at the same time.

Boris Karloff cuts off his first name.

Boris Karloff is no more. He became plain Karloff now that he is a Universal star. He joins the ranks of one-name players, such as Houdini and Thurston. Or, in real life, Svengali and Cagliostro.

At that, Karloff is not Karloff. He is not Russian. He was born in England. Karloff was his mother's maiden name.

SIDNEY FOX MAKING FILM IN FRANCE

Sidney Fox reports that she is having a grand time at Nice, France, where she is making "Don Quixote" opposite Feodor Chaliapin, famous Russian singer, but that she'll hop the first boat back to Hollywood when she's through. She's scheduled to return to Universal studios early in November for further starring roles.

FIVE STARS IN ONE OF YEARS' BIGGEST FILMS

Santa Anans who did not have an opportunity to see "Grand Hotel," one of the season's greatest pictures, when it was shown at the Fox Broadway theater several weeks ago as a road attraction at top prices, will be given another opportunity, this time at popular prices.

The picture opens a four day run at the Fox Broadway theater tomorrow.

With an all-star cast headed by Greta Garbo, John Barrymore, Joan Crawford, Wallace Beery and Lionel Barrymore, the film version of the famous Vicki Baum play is considered one of the year's outstanding presentations and in bringing it to the screen the settings designed by Cedric Gibbons, play a part almost on the same plane as the human characters.

The plot takes place in 24 hours in a big hotel in Europe. The mingling of people, their wants, their crimes and their deeds run through the picture with amazing speed and likeness to life. The photoplay is particularly good and the unwinding of the story is done in such a manner that the entire audience sits spellbound through its every episode.

"Grand Hotel" is a screen treat. It is one picture that should be seen by all story lovers, for its appeal is great, its acting superb and its scenes are probably the best that will be witnessed here this year.

Sally Ellers gets new assignment.

Sally Ellers' next starring role is to be in the new Fox picture, "See- and Hand Wife," which Hamilton MacFadden will direct from the screen adaptation of Kathleen Norris' novel.

Miss Ellers' leading man in this production is to be Ralph Bellamy, who played opposite her in "Disorderly Conduct," and who has just completed a prominent part in "Wild Girl" with Charles Farrell and Joan Bennett.
